Dreyfus Ultra Short Income Fund – Class D

September 30, 2018

The performance data quoted represents past performance, which is no guarantee of future results. Share price and investment return fluctuate and an investor’s shares may be worth more or less than original cost upon redemption. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance quoted. Go to Dreyfus.com for the fund's most recent month-end returns. The yields quoted reflect the current absorption of certain expenses, without which the 30-day yield would have been 1.59% and other returns would have been lower.

Fund Description
The fund seeks high current income consistent with the maintenance of liquidity and low volatility of principal. The fund is designed to provide a high degree of share price stability while generating higher returns than money market funds over time and, thus, may be an investment alternative to money market funds and other fixed-income funds. The fund is not a money market fund and is not subject to the maturity, quality, liquidity and diversification requirements applicable to money market funds. Short-term bond funds do not attempt to maintain a stable NAV of $1.00 and are subject to greater risk than money market funds.

Please see other side for important information

The fund normally invests in a broad range of U.S. dollar-denominated debt securities, including money market instruments. The fund’s investments may include:

- securities issued or guaranteed as to principal and interest by the U.S. government or its agencies or instrumentalities (including mortgage-related securities)
- certificates of deposit, time deposits, bankers’ acceptances and other short-term securities issued by domestic or foreign banks or thrifts or their subsidiaries or branches
- domestic and foreign commercial paper, and other short-term corporate obligations, including those with floating or variable rates of interest
- obligations issued or guaranteed by one or more foreign governments or any of their political subdivisions or agencies
- repurchase agreements, including tri-party repurchase agreements
- asset-backed securities
- municipal securities
- inflation-indexed securities
- zero coupon securities

Investment Approach

The fund’s investment adviser is The Dreyfus Corporation (Dreyfus). Patricia Larkin is the fund’s primary portfolio manager, a position she has held since April 2016. Ms. Larkin is the Chief Investment Officer of Money Market Strategies for BNY Mellon Cash Investment Strategies, a division of Dreyfus.

Portfolio Management

The fund’s share price will fluctuate, which means you could lose money by investing in the fund. Bond funds are subject generally to interest rate, credit, liquidity, call, and market risks, to varying degrees, all of which are more fully described in the fund’s prospectus. Prices of fixed-income securities tend to move inversely with changes in interest rates. Typically, a rise in rates will adversely affect prices of fixed-income securities and, accordingly, the fund’s share price.

When there is little or no active trading market for specific types of securities, it can become more difficult to sell the securities at or near their perceived value. In such a market, the value of such securities may fall dramatically, potentially lowering the fund’s share price, even during periods of declining interest rates. Also, during such periods, redemptions by a few large investors in the fund may have a significant adverse effect on the fund’s net asset value and remaining fund shareholders.
