LETTER TO SHAREHOLDERS

Dear Shareholder:

This annual report for Dreyfus Institutional Preferred Treasury Securities Money Market Fund covers the 12-month period ended March 31, 2018. During the reporting period, the fund's Hamilton shares produced a yield of 0.95%, its Institutional shares produced a yield of 1.00%, and its Premier shares produced a yield of 0.75%. Taking into account the effects of compounding, the fund's Hamilton, Institutional, and Premier shares also produced effective yields of 0.95%, 1.00%, and 0.75%, respectively, for the same period.¹

Yields of short-term U.S. Treasury obligations climbed over the reporting period in response to sustained economic growth, more stimulative fiscal policies, and three increases in short-term interest rates from the Federal Reserve Board (the "Fed").

Less Accommodative Monetary Policy Boosted Interest Rates

The reporting period began in the midst of positive investor sentiment as investors and monetary policymakers looked forward to stronger economic growth stemming, in part, from the business-friendly policies of a new presidential administration. Just weeks before the start of the reporting period, the Fed responded to these developments by raising the overnight federal funds rate to between 0.75% and 1.00%.

Consumer confidence moderated in April and U.S. manufacturing activity slowed, but corporate earnings grew more than expected. The labor market produced 175,000 new jobs and an unemployment rate of 4.4%. In May, 155,000 new jobs were created, and the unemployment rate slid to 4.3%. Manufacturing activity expanded in June with 15 of 18 manufacturing industries reporting growth. The unemployment rate ticked higher to 4.4%, and 239,000 new jobs were added. The Fed again raised short-term interest rates, sending the federal funds rate to between 1.00% and 1.25%. The U.S. economy grew at a 3.1% annualized rate during the second quarter of 2017.

The economy generated 190,000 new jobs in July, and the unemployment rate returned to 4.3%. Activity in the manufacturing and services sectors continued to grow, but at slower rates than previously. In August, 221,000 jobs were added, and the unemployment rate rose to 4.4%. Housing starts exceeded forecasts, but retail sales generally disappointed.

September saw U.S. factory activity climb to a 13-year high as companies invested to make their operations more efficient. The labor market produced only 14,000 new jobs, in part due to hurricanes affecting Florida and Texas. Yet, the unemployment rate fell to 4.2%. The U.S. economy expanded at a 3.2% annualized rate over the third quarter.

The unemployment rate declined to 4.1% in October, its lowest level since December 2000, and 271,000 jobs were created. Automobile purchases increased 0.7% as Gulf Coast residents replaced flood-damaged vehicles. The U.S. economy added 216,000 jobs in November, and the unemployment rate remained at 4.1%. The Fed implemented its third interest-rate hike of 2017 in mid-December, raising the federal funds rate to between 1.25% and 1.50%. The unemployment rate remained at 4.1% and 175,000 new jobs were created. Retail sales during the holiday season climbed 4.9% compared to the previous year, and investors responded positively to the enactment of federal tax reform legislation. The U.S. economy grew at an annualized 2.6% rate during the fourth quarter.

In January 2018, 176,000 new jobs were added and the unemployment rate stayed at 4.1%. Corporate earnings growth continued to exceed expectations and hiring activity proved brisk. Hourly wages began to rise at their strongest pace since the 2008 recession, suggesting that inflation might begin to accelerate. February saw renewed volatility in the financial markets as inflation fears mounted in response to the addition of an estimated 326,000 jobs. The unemployment rate stayed steady at 4.1% for the fifth consecutive month. Manufacturing activity continued to expand, and consumer confidence remained high. Volatility in the financial markets remained high in March, when investors reacted nervously to rhetoric regarding potential new trade tariffs. Job creation trailed off compared to previous months with an estimated 103,000 new jobs, but the manufacturing industry posted its strongest job gains in more than three years. The unemployment rate remained at 4.1%, but consumer confidence fell slightly due to worries about potential trade disputes.

Additional Rate Hikes Expected

The Fed has continued to moderate its accommodative monetary policy by unwinding its balance sheet through the sale of U.S. government securities, and more short-term interest-rate hikes are anticipated over the remainder of 2018 and into 2019. In the rising interest-rate environment, we have maintained the fund's weighted average maturity in a range that is modestly shorter than industry averages. This strategy is intended to capture higher yields as they become available. As always, we have retained our longstanding focus on liquidity.

You could lose money by investing in a money market fund. Although the fund seeks to preserve the value of your investment at $1.00 per share, it cannot guarantee it will do so. An investment in the fund is not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other government agency. The fund's sponsor has no legal obligation to provide financial support to the fund, and you should not expect that the sponsor will provide financial support to the fund at any time.

UNDERSTANDING YOUR FUND'S EXPENSES (Unaudited)

As a mutual fund investor, you pay ongoing expenses, such as management fees and other expenses. Using the information below, you can estimate how these expenses affect your investment and compare them with the expenses of other funds. You also may pay one-time transaction expenses, including sales charges (loads) and redemption fees, which are not shown in this section and would have resulted in higher total expenses. For more information, see your fund's prospectus or talk to your financial adviser.

Review your fund's expenses

The table below shows the expenses you would have paid on a $1,000 investment in Dreyfus Institutional Preferred Treasury Securities Money Market Fund from October 1, 2017 to March 31, 2018. It also shows how much a $1,000 investment would be worth at the close of the period, assuming actual returns and expenses.

Expenses and Value of a $1,000 Investment

assuming actual returns for the six months ended March 31, 2018

	Hamilton Shares	Premier Shares	Institutional Shares
Expenses paid per $1,000†	$.75	$ 1.75	$.50
Ending value (after expenses)	$ 1,005.70	$ 1,004.70	$ 1,006.00

COMPARING YOUR FUND'S EXPENSES WITH THOSE OF OTHER FUNDS (Unaudited)

Using the SEC's method to compare expenses

The Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") has established guidelines to help investors assess fund expenses. Per these guidelines, the table below shows your fund's expenses based on a $1,000 investment, assuming a hypothetical 5% annualized return. You can use this information to compare the ongoing expenses (but not transaction expenses or total cost) of investing in the fund with those of other funds. All mutual fund shareholder reports will provide this information to help you make this comparison. Please note that you cannot use this information to estimate your actual ending account balance and expenses paid during the period.

Expenses and Value of a $1,000 Investment

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

NOTE 1—Significant Accounting Policies:

Dreyfus Institutional Preferred Treasury Securities Money Market Fund (the “fund”) is a separate diversified series of CitizensSelect Funds (the “Company”), which is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the “Act”), as an open-end management investment company and operates as a series company currently offering two series, including the fund. The fund’s investment objective is to seek as high a level of current income as is consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity. The Dreyfus Corporation (the “Manager” or “Dreyfus”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of The Bank of New York Mellon Corporation (“BNY Mellon”), serves as the fund’s investment adviser.

MBSC Securities Corporation (the “Distributor”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Dreyfus, is the distributor of the fund’s shares, which are sold without a sales charge. The fund is authorized to issue an unlimited number of $.001 par value shares of Beneficial Interest in each of the following classes of shares: Hamilton, Premier and Institutional. The fund is generally sold to institutional investors. Hamilton and Premier shares are subject to an Administrative Services Plan. Other differences between the classes include the services offered to and the expenses borne by each class, and certain voting rights. Income, expenses (other than expenses attributable to a specific class), and realized and unrealized gains or losses on investments are allocated to each class of shares based on its relative net assets.

The fund operates as a “government money market fund” as that term is defined in Rule 2a-7 under the Act. It is the fund’s policy to maintain a constant net asset value (“NAV”) per share of $1.00 and the fund has adopted certain investment, portfolio valuation and dividend and distribution policies to enable it to do so. There is no assurance, however, that the fund will be able to maintain a constant NAV per share of $1.00.

The Company accounts separately for the assets, liabilities and operations of each series. Expenses directly attributable to each series are charged to that series’ operations; expenses which are applicable to all series are allocated among them on a pro rata basis.

The Financial Accounting Standards Board (“FASB”) Accounting Standards Codification is the exclusive reference of authoritative U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (“GAAP”) recognized by the FASB to be applied by nongovernmental entities. Rules and interpretive releases of the Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”) under authority of federal laws are also sources of authoritative GAAP for SEC registrants. The fund’s financial statements are prepared in accordance with GAAP, which may require the use of management estimates and assumptions. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

The Company enters into contracts that contain a variety of indemnifications. The fund's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown. The fund does not anticipate recognizing any loss related to these arrangements.

(a) Portfolio valuation: Investments in securities are valued at amortized cost in accordance with Rule 2a-7 under the Act. If amortized cost is determined not to approximate market value, the fair value of the portfolio securities will be determined by procedures established by and under the general supervision of the Board.

The fair value of a financial instrument is the amount that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date (i.e., the exit price). GAAP establishes a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs of valuation techniques used to measure fair value. This hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1 measurements) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (Level 3 measurements).

Additionally, GAAP provides guidance on determining whether the volume and activity in a market has decreased significantly and whether such a decrease in activity results in transactions that are not orderly. GAAP requires enhanced disclosures around valuation inputs and techniques used during annual and interim periods.

Various inputs are used in determining the value of the fund's investments relating to fair value measurements. These inputs are summarized in the three broad levels listed below:

Level 1—unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical investments.

Level 2—other significant observable inputs (including quoted prices for similar investments, interest rates, prepayment speeds, credit risk, etc.).

Level 3—significant unobservable inputs (including the fund's own assumptions in determining the fair value of investments).

The inputs or methodology used for valuing securities are not necessarily an indication of the risk associated with investing in those securities. For example, money market securities are valued using amortized cost, in accordance with rules under the Act. Generally, amortized cost approximates the current fair value of a security, but since the value is not obtained from a quoted price in an active market, such securities are reflected within Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy.

The following is a summary of the inputs used as of March 31, 2018 in valuing the fund's investments:

Valuation Inputs	Short-Term Investments ($)†
Level 1 - Unadjusted Quoted Prices	-
Level 2 - Other Significant Observable Inputs	115,840,972
Level 3 - Significant Unobservable Inputs	-
Total	115,840,972

† See Statement of Investments for additional detailed categorizations.

At March 31, 2018, there were no transfers between levels of the fair value hierarchy. It is the fund's policy to recognize transfers between levels at the end of the reporting period.

(b) Securities transactions and investment income: Securities transactions are recorded on a trade date basis. Interest income, adjusted for accretion of discount and amortization of premium on investments, is earned from settlement date and is recognized on the accrual basis. Realized gains and losses from securities transactions are recorded on the identified cost basis.

(c) Dividends and distributions to shareholders: It is the policy of the fund to declare dividends daily from investment income-net. Such dividends are paid monthly. Dividends from net realized capital gains, if any, are normally declared and paid annually, but the fund may make distributions on a more frequent basis to comply with the distribution requirements of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"). To the extent that net realized capital gains can be offset by capital loss carryovers, it is the policy of the fund not to distribute such gains.

(d) Federal income taxes: It is the policy of the fund to continue to qualify as a regulated investment company, if such qualification is in the best interests of its shareholders, by complying with the applicable provisions of the Code, and to make distributions of taxable income sufficient to relieve it from substantially all federal income and excise taxes.

As of and during the period ended March 31, 2018, the fund did not have any liabilities for any uncertain tax positions. The fund recognizes interest and penalties, if any, related to uncertain tax positions as income tax expense in the Statement of Operations. During the period ended March 31, 2018, the fund did not incur any interest or penalties.

Each tax year in the three-year period ended March 31, 2018 and the tax year ended April 30, 2015 remains subject to examination by the Internal Revenue Service and state taxing authorities.

At March 31, 2018, the components of accumulated earnings on a tax basis were substantially the same as for financial reporting purposes.

The tax character of distributions paid to shareholders during the fiscal periods ended March 31, 2018 and March 31, 2017 were all ordinary income.

At March 31, 2018, the cost of investments for federal income tax purposes was substantially the same as the cost for financial reporting purposes (see the Statement of Investments).

NOTE 2—Management Fee and Other Transactions with Affiliates:

(a) Pursuant to a management agreement with Dreyfus, the management fee is computed at the annual rate of .10% of the value of the fund's average daily net assets and is payable monthly. Out of its fee, Dreyfus pays all of the expenses of the fund except management fees, Administrative Services Plan fees, brokerage fees, taxes, and expenses, fees and expenses of non-interested Trustees (including counsel fees) and extraordinary expenses. In addition, Dreyfus is required to reduce its fee in an amount equal to the fund's allocable portion of fees and expenses of the non-interested Trustees (including counsel fees). During the period ended March 31, 2018, fees reimbursed by Dreyfus amounted to $1,252.

(b) Under the Administrative Services Plan with respect to Hamilton shares and Premier shares, Hamilton shares pay the Distributor at an annual rate of .05% of the value of their average daily net assets and Premier shares pay the Distributor at an annual rate of .25% of the value of their average daily net assets for the provision of certain services. The services provided may include personal services relating to shareholder accounts, such as providing reports and other fund communications to shareholders, withholding taxes, disbursing dividends and capital gain distributions, and providing statements for such distributions, administering proxies and such related services as the fund may reasonably request. During the period ended March 31, 2018, Hamilton and Premier shares were charged $78,539 and $150,798, respectively, pursuant to the Administrative Services Plan.

The components of "Due to The Dreyfus Corporation" in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities consist of: management fees $12,010 and administrative service fees $12,756, which are offset against an expense reimbursement currently in effect in the amount of $54.

(c) Each Board member also serves as a Board member of other funds within the Dreyfus complex. Annual retainer fees and attendance fees are allocated to each fund based on net assets.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

To the Shareholders and the Board of Trustees of Dreyfus Institutional Preferred Treasury Securities Money Market Fund

Opinion on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying statement of assets and liabilities of Dreyfus Institutional Preferred Treasury Securities Money Market Fund (one of the series comprising CitizensSelect Funds) (the “Fund”), including the statement of investments, as of March 31, 2018, and the related statement of operations for the year then ended, the statements of changes in net assets for each of the two years in the period then ended, the financial highlights for each of the two years in the period then ended, for the period from January 1, 2016 to March 31, 2016 and for each of the three years in the period ended April 30, 2015 and the related notes (collectively referred to as the “financial statements”). In our opinion, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Dreyfus Institutional Preferred Treasury Securities Money Market Fund at March 31, 2018, the results of its operations for the year then ended, the changes in its net assets for each of the two years in the period then ended and its financial highlights for each of the two years in the period then ended, for the period from January 1, 2016 to March 31, 2016 and for each of the three years in the period ended April 30, 2015, in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

Basis for opinion

These financial statements are the responsibility of the Fund’s management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Fund’s financial statements based on our audits. We are a public accounting firm registered with the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) (“PCAOB”) and are required to be independent with respect to the Fund in accordance with the U.S. federal securities laws and the applicable rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the PCAOB.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the PCAOB. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement, whether due to error or fraud. The Fund is not required to have, nor were we engaged to perform, an audit of the Fund’s internal control over financial reporting. As part of our audits, we are required to obtain an understanding of internal control over financial reporting, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Fund’s internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion.

Our audits included performing procedures to assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to error or fraud, and performing procedures that respond to those risks. Such procedures included examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our procedures included confirmation of securities owned as of March 31, 2018, by correspondence with the custodian and others or by other appropriate auditing procedures where replies were not received. Our audits also included evaluating the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

Ernst & Young LLP

We have served as the auditor of one or more Dreyfus investment companies since at least 1957, but we are unable to determine the specific year.
