What affected the Fund’s performance?

- International equity markets rose on hopes for, and the subsequent arrival of, interest rate cuts, as well as enthusiasm regarding artificial intelligence (“AI”).
- The Fund’s returns relative to the Index benefited from strong stock selection in the industrials and consumer discretionary sectors.
- Overweight exposure to the information technology sector bolstered returns amid investor enthusiasm for AI early in the reporting period, while lack of energy exposure also proved beneficial.
- Stock selection in financials proved the most significant detractor from relative returns by far.
- On a regional basis, stock selection in emerging markets was weak, particularly in South Korea.

How did the Fund perform over the past 10 years?

The Fund's past performance is not a good predictor of the Fund's future performance. The graph and table do not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on fund distributions or redemption of fund shares.
